Welcome to this transport guide for Melksham

Public transport to, from and within our town has changed – and mostly for the better – in the 20 years I have been involved. It's now possible, and often practical, to make journeys by bus and train every day, and every evening, from Melksham to most destinations.

On journeys into Bath, you speed along in the bus lane bypassing the cars queueing, and you are saved the hassle and cost of parking. Journeys into Swindon by train take just 25 minutes, and you can be in central London in an hour and a half.

In this booklet are timetables for local operators, with scheduled services every week for the greater Melksham area. Although services and information systems have improved, we still have six different public transport operators with each having their own systems and timetables. Working out your journey isn't always easy; the enclosed information consolidates everything in one place.

Buses and trains are not always ideal to reach your destination. Included are the various car parks, public charging points and fuel stations across Melksham.

The goal of the Melksham Transport User Group (MTUG) is to inform and help promote current and future service development. The group meets regularly. We welcome new members.

I would like to thank both Melksham Without and Melksham Town for the help, encouragement and funding they provide to MTUG.

Bus and Train Connection – Proposed

None of the bus services currently call at Melksham Railway Station. Buses pass by the top of Station Approach, but do not call there because of safety concerns on the main road.

Looking ahead, strategic planning, with the strong encouragement of MTUG, sees a second town service linking the station, town centre, newer residential areas to the east of Melksham and the Bowerhill and Hampton Park West business areas. In addition, these services should be running to connect in a timely manner with trains as well as providing hourly town services to parts of Melksham that currently have three or fewer services per day.

Several feasibility trials have run already with promising results. It is also the Number One rail network improvement policy for Wiltshire to add capacity on the single line through Melksham so that an hourly train can run in both directions.

Facilities at Melksham Railway Station

Buying your train ticket

When you buy your ticket in advance from GWR or other outlets online, tickets are sent to an app on your phone, posted to you, or collected from a ticket machine, such as the one at Melksham Station. You can also buy directly from the ticket machine at Melksham Station any time before you travel.

For local and regional journeys, the price will be the same as if you bought in advance. For long distance journeys, there are often lower priced options available online, or by phone, in advance

If you are unable to buy from the ticket machine – for example, if you are paying cash or buying a rover ticket – you may board the train at Melksham and pay the train manager. This applies only at stations that do not have an open and staffed ticket office. The railway has a major problem with non-payment, and for the absence of doubt, we suggest you tell the train manager as you join the train that you need to buy a ticket on board.

Some fare advice is available from GWR and National Rail online, by phone and at stations with staffed ticket offices. However, the fare system is complex and independent advice may point you in the direction of more appropriate and better value combinations of tickets. If in doubt, the appropriateness of the advised tickets and fares should be checked with the train operating organisation.

Display Boards

Melksham Station has two electronic displays showing the next scheduled trains, which are updated with real time information. Melksham Station does not have a loudspeaker system, so there are no announcements.

Help Point

Further help is available via the information button on the help point which connects you to a real person in a call centre.

If you need help boarding the train, please wait on the platform and, when the train arrives, the train manager will help you. All passenger trains on the line have a train manager.

If things go wrong

When you have bought a ticket, GWR are obliged to get you to your destination at no extra cost to you (there are limited exceptions). They should not leave you stranded, and a replacement option should be offered, either by a rail replacement bus or taxi.

If your train arrives at your destination station more than 15 minutes late, you may claim a refund of part of the fare. This also applies if the individual trains are only a few minutes late and that delay causes an official connection to fail. But, it does not apply to delays outside the UK rail network.

As well as immediate travel information and help, MTUG works with public transport operators, local and central government, and other user and advocate groups to help formulate and provide better service provision in the future.

Mobility Issues

Boarding Trains

If you have limited mobility, the train manager will help with boarding at all five stations on the Swindon-to-Westbury line.

We advise you to check in advance if you are travelling further afield, as you will need booked assistance on some trains, stations, and/or platforms.

See <https://www.gwr.com/travel-information/passenger-assist>

Getting on Buses

All buses that serve Melksham have flat access available and the driver will assist. Please note that there are a few stops, such as the one near Blenheim House (Roundpond) where the width of the pavement makes it impractical to load or unload a wheelchair.

During Travel

Because accommodating mobility aids, prams and luggage on buses and trains is limited, users should situate them in designated spaces and fold or store if possible to allow space for a mobility device user and unincumbered access during travel.

Able bodied passengers should give up priority seats to those more in need of them. Remember: not all needs are visible and often people will wear lanyards with sunflowers to designate special requirements for seating.

If someone is accompanied by a service animal, please do not approach them unless it's been mutually agreed it is allowed.

Making Connections

271 • 272 • 273 to Bath

All services from Melksham into Bath will drop you off in Manvers Street directly opposite the railway station. When returning from Bath, join the bus at the bus station (Bay 5) as routes 271/272/273 will not pick you up at the Manvers Street stop.

Taking the Bus to Catch the Train

Melksham Station is an 8 minute walk from the Town Bridge, and there is cycle parking (at owner's risk), 20 minute free pick-up and drop-off spaces. Longer period, paid parking is operated by Wiltshire Council. Bus services do not currently call at the station, or very close, as they do in Bath, Chippenham and Trowbridge. Taxis from Melksham Station need to be prebooked.

Taking the Train to Embark on a Cruise

Going on a cruise from Southampton? Leave your car at home and take the train to Southampton Central from where it is a short taxi ride to the cruise terminals. Either catch the train from Melksham - usually a change of trains in Westbury - or take the bus to Bath or Trowbridge, both of which have direct hourly trains to Southampton.

Headed for the RUH?

(Royal United Hospital in Bath)

If the timing of the direct bus (x76) from Melksham to the Royal United Hospital does not work for you, take the Faresaver service 271/272/273 to Bath Bus Station and connect onto the First Bus service 3 or 4 from Dorchester Street - directly outside the bus station - to the hospital, which runs four times an hour - you must catch it in the Weston direction.

On return, the bus for Melksham leaves from Bay 5 at the bus station and not necessarily where it dropped you off on the way in.

Allow at least 45 minutes from your arrival in Bath from Melksham for your RUH appointment.

Park and Ride to the RUH

(Royal United Hospital in Bath)

Parking at the RUH can be a nightmare, and Bath Bus Station is not everyone's cup of tea.

As an alternative, you could park at the Odd Down Park and Ride, and catch Bus Route 4 through the city to the hospital. The service runs every half hour. Allow 90 minutes from arriving in the Park and Ride to your RUH appointment. If you cannot drive or take the buses, Melksham Link may be able to help.

Melksham Link

Link is a charitable organisation run by volunteers, and is part of a county-wide Good Neighbours scheme that helps local residents get to medical appointments when they have no other way of getting there.
